SYNOPSIS

Ling Fung is indulged in practicing Kung-fu. Being proud of his unusual fitness, he calls himself the Mad Monkey.

He practices Monkey Fist under the instruction of Master Chan. However unable to bear with the tough courses, he leaves Chan. By mistake, he intrudes into the martial-arts school of the "Eight Beasts" and is almost beaten to death. The "Beasts" are blood-thirsty inhuman Kung-fu maniacs. With five males and three females they are expertise in various styles of Kung-fu. With Master Chan, they are irreconcilable rivals.

Ling Fun returns to Master Chan after being humiliated by the "Beasts". He takes his Monkey Fist seriously and consistently. In the mean time, he also attempts revenge but is badly hurt. His only chance to revenge will only come when the full course is completed. Master Chan offers him whole-hearted instruction. Now that he gains the name of Golden Monkey. The final countdown between him and the "Beasts" becomes inevitable. It is a showdown of different styles initiated from various animals styles which are on screen for the very first time in Kung-fu action films.
